This year marks the one hundredth anniversary of free education in Oneonta as well as in New York State. Our school celebrated the event with a series of three library programs stressing accomplishments of the past. Mr. Edwin Moore, Oneonta's local historian, was guest speaker at the first program, entitled "OHS 100 Years Ago." On the following weekend, choir alumni gathered to sing selections from past school productions. A round-table discussion with former athletic stars highlighted the last program. These events brought to mind not only the achievements of our school, but the idea that education is a gift, inherited from those who struggled 100 years ago to give their children a better life. All we enjoy in our beautiful school—its campus, classrooms, pep rallies, football games, and assemblies, is the result of the ideals of a generation 100 years ago.

Whether it be teaching students the artistic sense of balance and design, or the correct delivery of a demonstration speech, each instructor must have the gift to inspire students to learn.

Mr. Joseph Signorino had such a gift.

In his history classes, students participated in active debates of current problems facing Oneonta's Common Council.

Through the free and casual discussion, each student was challenged to learn.

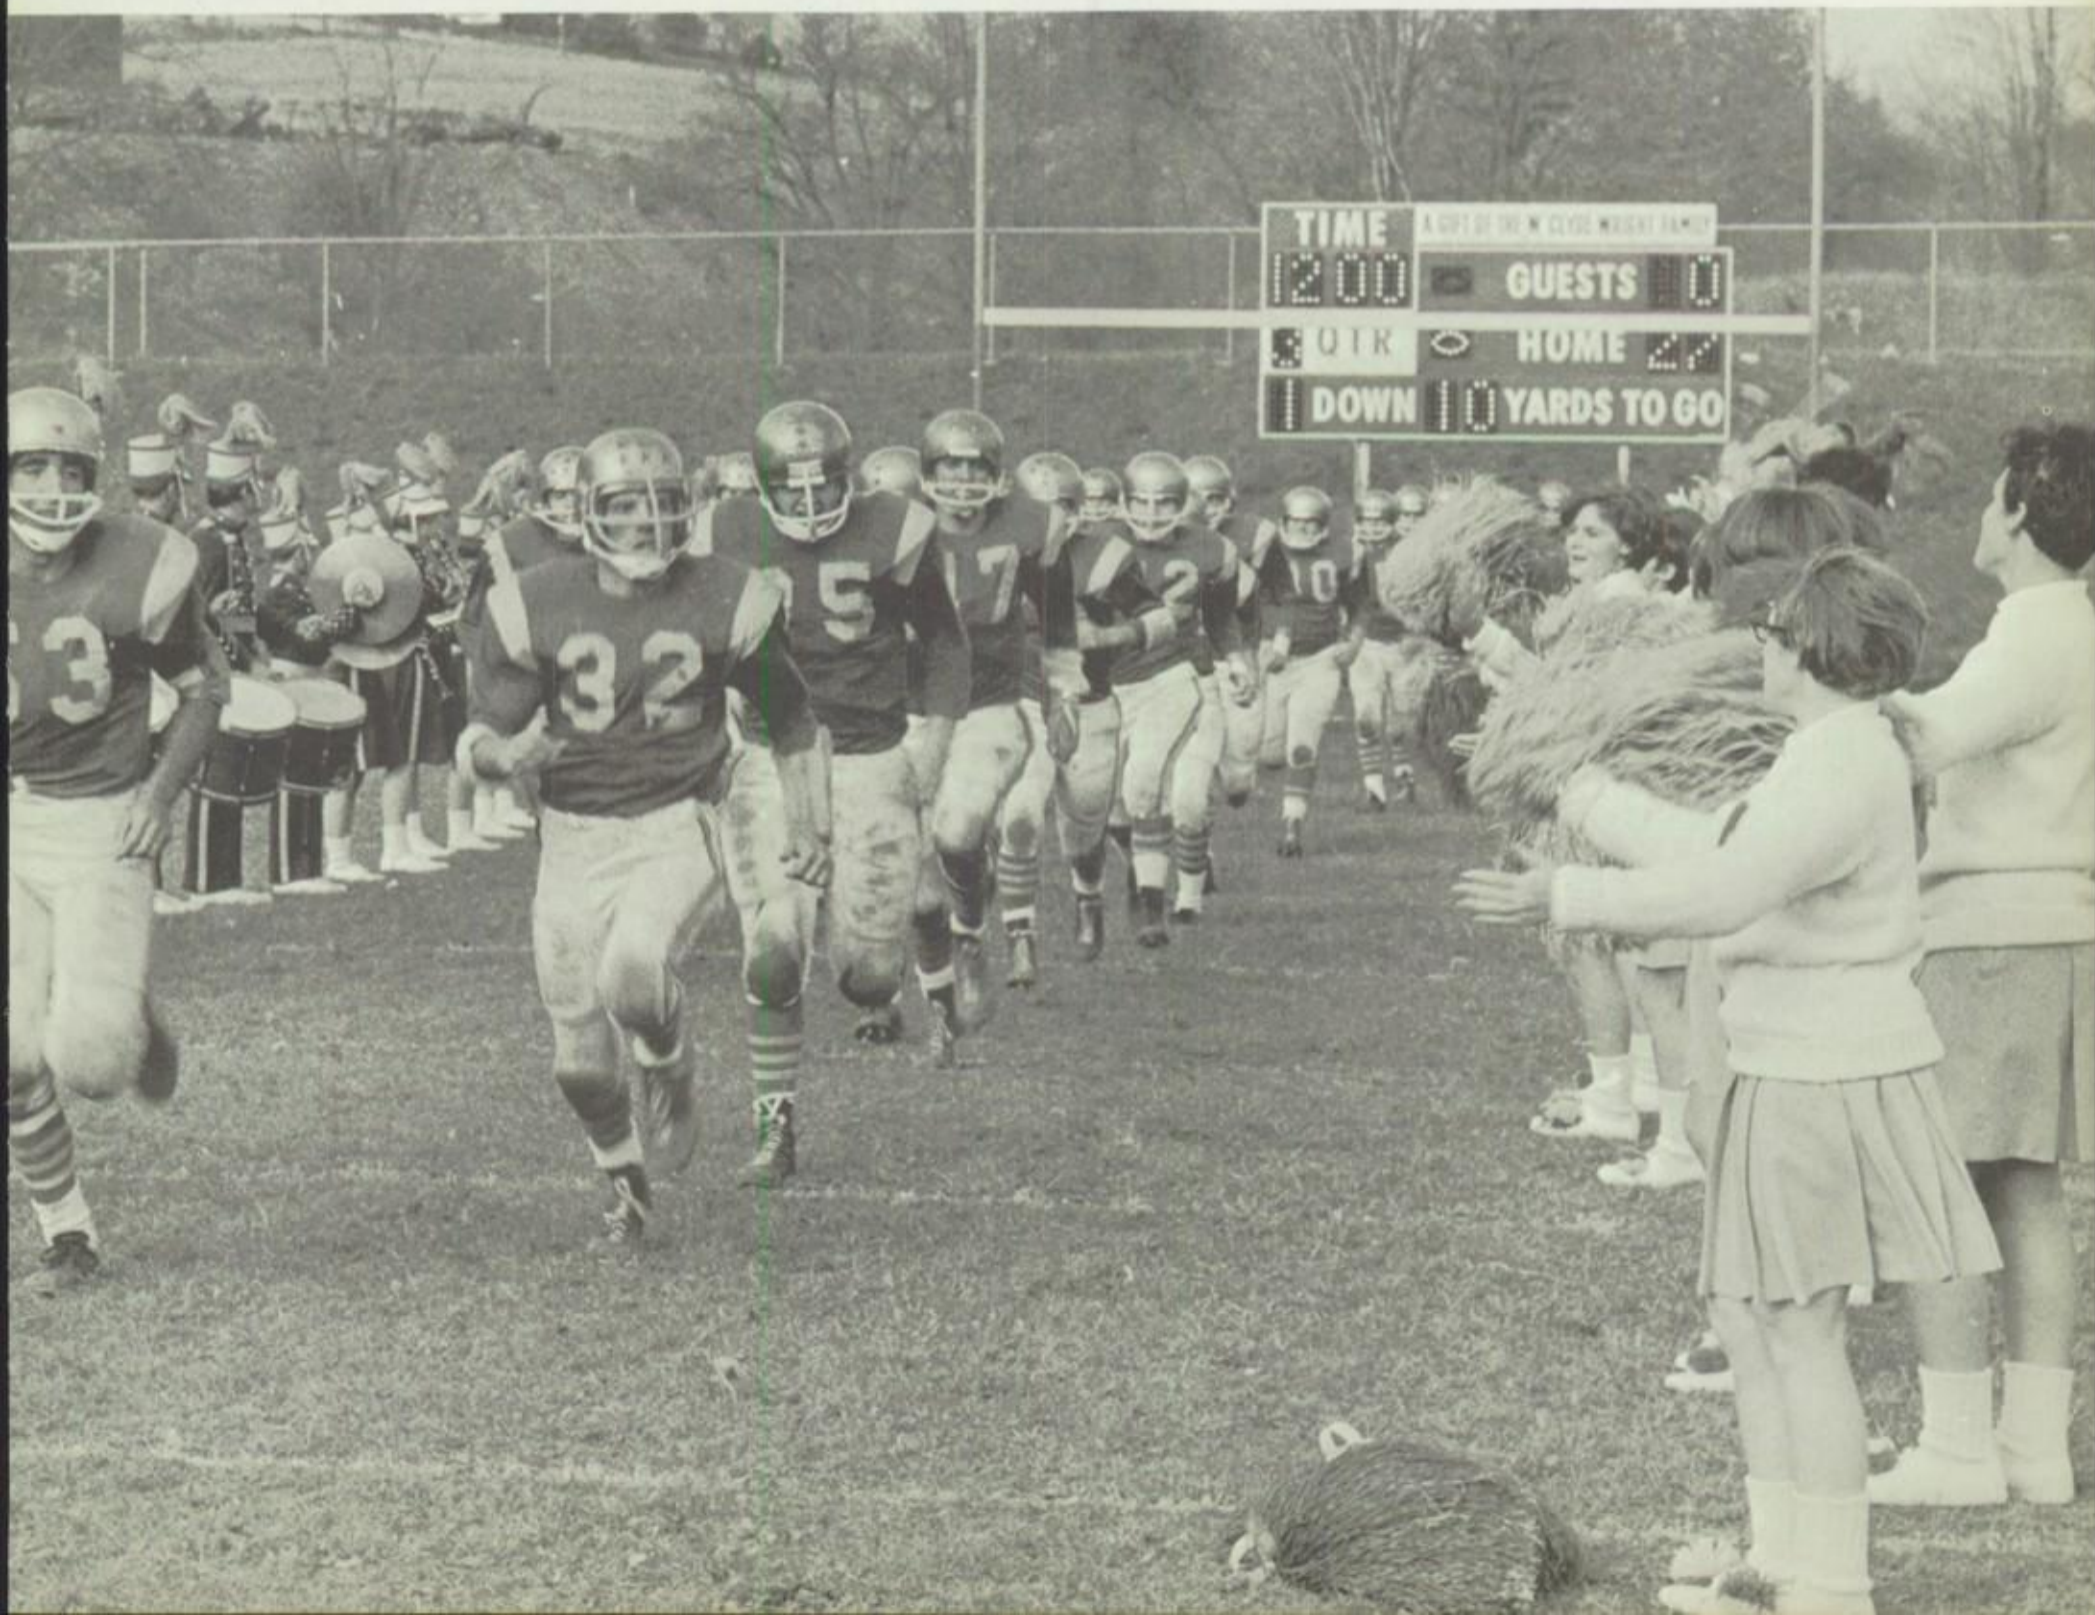

Mr. Signorino's gift for teaching made his classes aware not only of the importance of ideas, but of the influence a true teacher has in the education of his students.

From fall to spring, sports lent excitement to the school atmosphere. The football games left pleasant memories of the first glimpse of the blue and gold football jerseys, the taste of a warm hot dog on a frosty afternoon, and the roar of the cheering crowd. At half-time the concession stand resembled a carnival as the spectators milled about buying candy and soft drinks. As the cold snowy months set in, sports enthusiasts crowded into the school gym to attend basketball games and wrestling matches. Spring brought the return of outdoor sports. Soft breezy days invited additional spectators to baseball games, while the hard-packed turf encouraged tennis matches and track meets.

Beyond the traditional textbook learning, students can appreciate the value of the performing arts through their own personal experiences. This opportunity to participate teaches self-expression and self-identification on the stage or in the audience. On the professional or amateur level, whether watching a Lincoln Center Opera Troupe perform scenes from The Crucible or student productions: Eloise At Christmas Time and Barefoot in the Park, young and old, alike, admire the self-discipline in the perfection of talent.

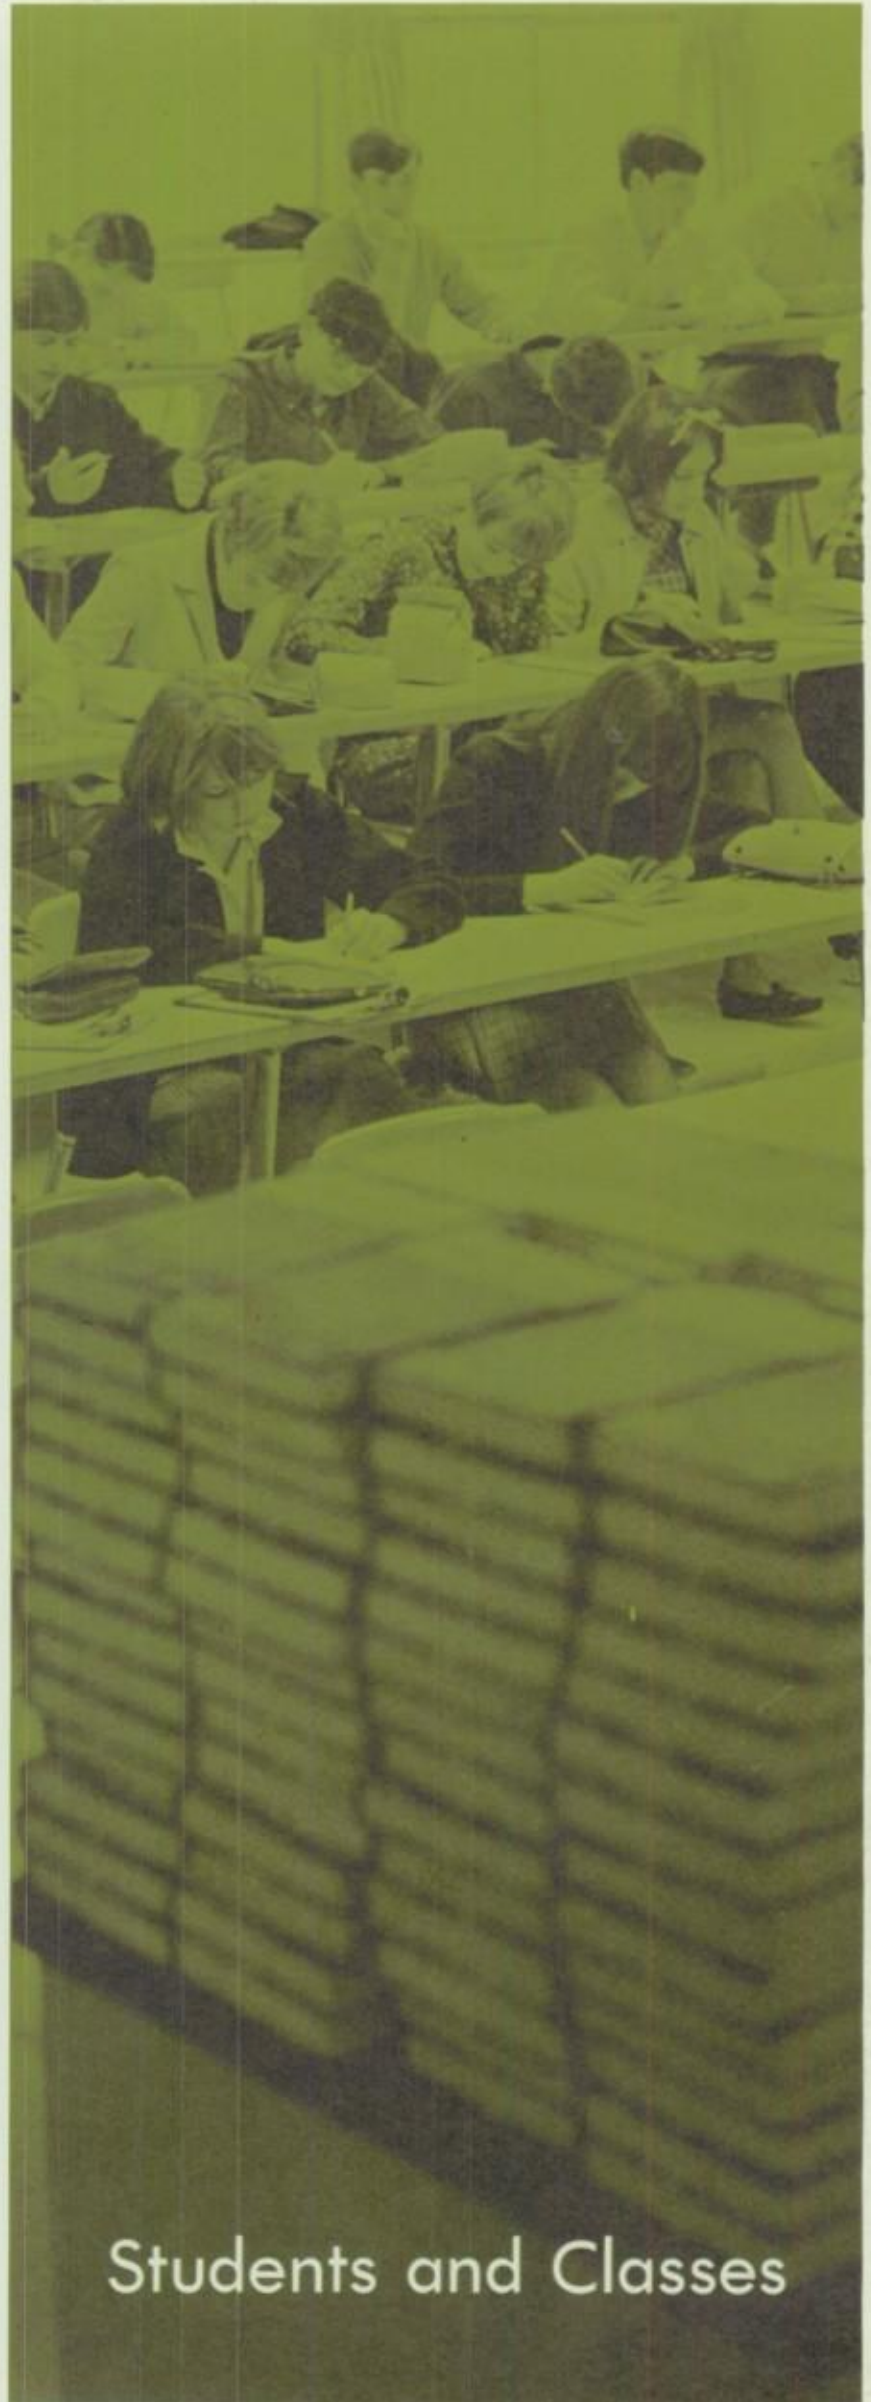

The mythical kingdom of Camelot, brought to the stage by imaginative scenery and elaborate costumes, provided the perfect setting for the famed tale of King Arthur, his young queen Guenevere, and the Knights of the Round Table. Dealing with the serious theme of the quest for right, honor, and justice, the musical production was the most dramatically difficult one ever attempted by the varsity choir. A 22-piece orchestra accompanied the choir and, with the help of eight backdrops and nine trunks of costumes, created the fanciful mood. Comic relief in the form of King Pellinore and his huge dog, Horrid, heightened various scenes, while the glittering pink tree emphasized the fairytale atmosphere. Camelot, representing long weeks of hard work by the principals, the varsity choir, the art and shop departments, the orchestra, and the stage crew, delighted over two thousand.

Students and Classes

Class of 1968 salutes one hundredth year centennial

This school year marks the centennial for the public high school in Oneonta. As the one hundred years terminated, the graduating class made important firsts in their goal to make the year memorable.

Sixteen members of the senior class received Letters of Commendation for their performance on the National Merit Scholarship Examination. In magazine sales, the persistent seniors set a new school record by exceeding all previous sales.

The year ended with the traditional activities: senior picnic, banquet, and ball.

Four boys head the senior class. Seated are Timothy Parsons, vice-president, John Sparaco, president. Standing are Terry Deery, treasurer, John Zagata, secretary, and Mr. Frank Gallucci, adviser.

Cheri Bateman, like many other juniors, spends much of her free time in the guidance office leafing through catalogues.

College emphasis causes junior year of indecision

Caught in the turmoil of countless examinations and important decisions, juniors squeezed in time for the activities that made this year so enjoyable. The stimulation of obtaining upperclassman status, the sense of belonging, and the thrill of wearing the school ring, contributed to a memorable year.

The emphasis was on college. Colleges sent representatives to the school to meet interested students. Juniors took numerous tests in preparation for college acceptance. Many students made use of the facilities of the guidance office including pamphlets, films, records, and college bulletins.

It was a year of confusion and indecision, of fun and activities, of hard work, and hope. It was junior year.

After a short orientation in the auditorium, bewildered sophomores rush into the halls in search of their homerooms.

Sophs fit school routine, help boost school spirit

The transition to a new school is sometimes difficult, but always exciting. A certain brightness about this year cast a glow over attending different classrooms, meeting new people, and receiving fresh textbooks. It was a time for the "firsts" that accompany attending high school: the football games, lockers, library cards, and lab classes.

For the first time, sophomores met foreign exchange students. They gained a new concept of people and countries through their new friendships.

Extracurricular activities created an atmosphere to which the sophomores added enthusiasm and zeal. In turn, this atmosphere contributed to their class and school spirit.

New classes, teachers, activities—all made a memorable year.

Board continues its improvement policy

The state scholastic evaluation, the renovation of the Junior High School, and the new vocational school mark this year's highspots of activity for the Board of Education.

The State Education Department evaluated the instructional and business programs of the school system. A series of supervisory visits and classroom observations resulted in constructive criticism for the district.

Improvements in the Junior High School included such safety measures as closing the well and installing smoke doors on the stairways.

The school district joined the county in sharing the expenses and services of the new vocational school.

Following his nomination by fellow School Board members, Dr. Charles W. Hunt received the Distinguished Service Award presented by the New York State School Boards Association. Dr. Hunt has participated in the field of education for 63 years.

Mr. Belden foresees future challenges

During the past four years, Oneonta High School has acquired modern facilities to complement its excellent scholastic ratings. It has received a ten-year accreditation and has vastly increased student opportunities. Both the smooth transition and overall excellence can be attributed primarily to Mr. Belden and his staff.

Looking toward his twenty-third year as principal, Mr. Belden foresees a period of expansion in all areas so that students may take complete advantage of the facilities provided by the new high school and local colleges. The school must not only improve the opportunities for students to learn and think originally and creatively, but it must also teach the students to live in a demanding society without losing their individual identities.

Mr. Belden enjoys talking with Mr. Pirone, Mr. Lambros, and Mr. Picolla as they relax during a morning coffee break. At the right, he stands by the door leading to the courtyard.

OHS americanizes foreign exchange students

The foreign students at OHS this year include Emily Cheong (Malaysia), Peggy Hinojosa (Ecuador), Kari Neilsen (Denmark), Olga Lackamp (The Netherlands), Stephen Ng (Hong Kong), and Saburo Eguchi (Japan). To welcome these students to American social activities, the publications staff held a tea in their honor. Here, David Cuyler serves Saburo, Emily, and Kari.

As part of their American initiation, Olga Lackamp, Emily Cheong, and Kari Neilsen participate in an old-fashioned taffy pull during a Christmas party at the White home.

Caroling is another Christmas tradition, as Saburo Eguchi learns from Joan Polley.

Peggy Hinojosa contributes her design to the paper mosaic collection in the art room. Peggy enjoys the creative class.

Following a round of American folk songs sung by Dave Coons and Steve Sweet, Mr. Belden chats with Peggy and Stephen at the tea.

Even though Christmas is approaching, pupils continue studying in the school library.

Corie and Paul Bratter (Kristin Rose and John Wilson) support her mother, Mrs. Banks (Sharon Miller), who unexpectedly collapses into the newlyweds sixth floor apartment. When Paul instructs his mother-in-law that she should have rested on the way up, she retorts, "I did . . . but there were always more stairs."

Early arrivers at the Bratters' brownstone walk-up are the Telephone Repair Man (Robert Kalweit), who finds it odd that anyone would want to "live up here. . .every day" and the Delivery Man (Francis Colone),who manages to gasp only one comment, "Argh!"

Football Team Recovers To Win Last Five Games

A lack of experience and a tough schedule hindered the Yellowjacket gridiron squad early in the season, but they soon recovered and went undefeated in their last five games.

At the end of the Iroquois League season, the Jackets were tied for second place with Mohawk behind a strong Ilion team.

During the season, the Yellowjackets outscored their opponents 247-60, averaging almost 31 points per game, a higher average than any other league team.

Jayvees Lose to V-V-S, Finish With 4-1 Record

The JV football team, after losing its opener to a strong Vernon-Verona-Sherill squad, finished its season with four straight wins, beating Norwich, Harpursville, Sherburne, and Deposit.

The high spot of the junior Jackets' schedule was their come-from-behind victory over Norwich. The jayvees, down by a 20-6 count at the half, finally won the game 25-20, when Bill O'Malley pulled in a pass tossed by Bruce Sanchez and fell into the end zone.

The Yellowjacket junior gridgers outscored their opponents, 137-73 during the season, averaging nearly twice as many points per game as the opposing teams.

Hoopsters Win Iroquois; Zagata Voted League MVP

The Jacket hoopsters finished their season with a 17-4 record, dropping their finale, the sectional semi-finals, to New Hartford. The Jackets took first in the league, paced by MVP John Zagata, who averaged 21.3 points per game and set the school scoring mark of 38. Also leading the cagers were Terry Deery and Chuck Hale, averaging 13.5 and 12.0 points respectively.

Grapplers Earn Even Slate Behind Sparaco, Bookhout

The Yellowjacket wrestling squad turned in an even record of 5-5-1 for the season.

The grapplers were paced by a good number of seniors, but particularly Bill Bookhout and John Sparaco, co-captains. In his junior and senior years, Sparaco compiled a 42-2-1 record, winning the Iroquois League and Windsor Tournaments twice and placing first in Section III Meet as a junior and taking second place this year.

Bowlers Earn Trophy Points; Riflers Second In Section

The bowling team, selected this year primarily in view of the results of the intramural bowling program, was a vital part of the undefeated winter sports team.

Led by Terry Brienza and John Babbitt, the bowlers contributed a good number of All-Sport Trophy points to the Jacket tally each week.

The Yellowjacket rifle team finished the season with an admirable record of six wins and six losses. After a shaky start, the Jackets came back to wind up the season with four victories in their last six encounters.

At the end of the season, the team placed second in Section III competition. The best ten shooters from this section, including some from the Jacket squad, then went on to Intersectional Meet and placed second.

Earning major sport status, the rifle team was awarded varsity letters for the year.

Winter Sports Undefeated With Five Wins, Two Ties

The four teams that make up the winter sports program, badminton, bowling, table tennis, and volleyball, pooled their efforts and came up with an undefeated season.

The Yellowjackets compiled a 5-0-2 record, beating all league competitors except Norwich and Frankfort, both of which they tied, 20-20.

Points scored in winter sports contests are important because they are tallied when the All-Sport Trophy points are compiled.

Gymnastics Sweep First 8; Take Second In League

The Yellowjacket gymnasts wound up their season with an 8-1 record for dual competition, winning all but their season finale against Rome Free Academy. The first time they met Rome, the Jackets won by a single point, 48½-47½. The Romans avenged themselves on their home floor, however, downing the Jackets, 64½-31½.

In post-season competition, the gymnasts placed second in the league and fifth in Section III. In the sectionals, the Jackets were paced by Ed Knapp, who placed fourth in floor exercises, Dave Finn, who captured fifth on the still rings, Ed Haher, who took sixth on the horizontal bar and tied for second in long horse vaulting. Rick competed in the state meet and took tenth place on the horizontal bar.

Ed Knapp and Rick Collins hold nearly perfect handstands. Good form made them almost unbeatable in floor exercise.

Glovemen Finish Second In Final League Standings

The Jacket baseball team finished the season second in the league with a 9-6 record. The glovemen's success was due mainly to the strong bats of George McGurl, Ed Syron, Frank Corrado, Terry Brienza, and Darrell Sanchez. Slick infielding played a vital role in the Yellowjackets' winning season.

Trackmen Earn 5-2 Record In Season's Dual Contests

The Yellowjacket cindermen placed third in the Iroquois League meet and compiled a 5-2 dual meet record, dropping only one of their six league encounters.

Highlighting the season was a 69-62 upset victory over Ilion, which played a significant role in the retention of the Iroquois League All Sports Trophy.

The team finished fourth in the Sectional Relays at Norwich. Credit goes to Terry Cook, Pete Keegan, Jim Lewis and Pete Hattem, seniors; John Sparaco and Bart Biche, juniors; and Len Salisbury, Cris Oliver, Dave Cuyler, Mark Banta, and Darrell Colombo, sophomores.

John Sparaco shows fine form as he hurls the discus. John's best throw of the season was more than 147 feet.

Victories Come Too Late For Yellowjacket Golfers

Just as the golf team began to roll last year, the season came to a close, leaving the squad with a 3-5-2 record for dual contests.

Road trips were the Jackets' downfall, as they lost four of their five matches played away from home and tied the other. Coach Tony Drago's golfers mastered their home links. They lost only one home encounter, when they were nudged by Stamford, 8-7, in the season opener.

The Yellowjackets, led by Brian Gould and Tom Delaney, also finished fourth in the league.

Netmen Take 12 Straight, Finish Second In Section 3

A young Yellowjacket tennis squad, paced by Terry Deery and Captain Al White, compiled a 12-1 record and took second place in the Section III Tournament at Hamilton College.

In their 13 encounters, Coach Bud Pirone's netmen outscored their opponents 94-10. Seven of their 12 victories were shut-outs. The racketmen's only loss was the season opener with Ithaca, which they dropped by a score of 5-4.

John Seider, Dick Abbott, Jim Austin, and Jeff House bolstered the efforts of Deery and White.

Terry Deery shows fine form in hitting an overhead. Terry has a good chance to beat the OHS record for most wins.

Intramural Sports Program Includes Varied Activities

The first intramural activity of the year was flag football. Captained by John Goodrich, SMU downed John Zagata's Notre Dame squad in the season finale, 31-12. Since both teams were undefeated going into this game, SMU took the league championship.

With the termination of the football program, intramural soccer teams went into action. Despite below freezing temperatures, attendance at most games was excellent, especially the last game of the season when Navy, captained by Dan Parker, beat UCLA 3-1 to win the league.

The cold weather drove the athletes inside, and one of the best attended, best played, and best behaved intramural basketball programs got under way. Kentucky, behind captain Jim Ballantine, took the league with a 6-1 record, followed by Loyola which went 5-2.

Slippery Rock, captained by John Goodrich, bumped Princeton out of first place at the end of the season to win the intramural bowling league with a 22-5 record.

Intramural volleyball was the last program of the year. Almost 200 boys took part, and the season ended in a tie between Wanakena and USC which was played off.

ONEONTA SHOPPING PLAZA

There's a bit of the beast in every bug.

It doesn't take much to unleash the savage fury of a Volkswagen.

Take almost any old VW, replace the body, make a few simple adjustments, and you've got a Formula Vee racer.

How can a mild-mannered, practical, everyday Volkswagen convert so easily into something so delightfully impractical?

In the words of the Formula Vee International Manual: "Volkswagen components seem to have been made expressly for use in a racing car."

"The engine, air-cooled and mostly aluminum, is light for its power output and already adapted to the rear-engine concept of modern racing cars."

"Its rugged construction provides a power plant which seems to be practically indestructible, even at racing speeds."

"Operating costs are amazingly low. One set of tires will ordinarily last more than a season and one oil change a year is sufficient."

It seems that the same things that make the VW a sensible car for people who aren't in any particular hurry to get somewhere also make the Formula Vee a sensible car for people who are in a big hurry to get nowhere.
